

New Victims Week website & Facebook

The National Victims of Crime Awareness Week new website is live, and that the Department of Justice Canada is now on Facebook! Please visit them at <http://www.victimswweek.gc.ca>, and they invite you to 'like' their page by visiting Facebook.com/JusticeCanadaEn.

With the 8th annual National Victims of Crime Awareness Week just around the corner, don't forget to check-in daily for news and information on events taking place near you. Through videos, photos and written testimonials, we will be sharing stories from victims, service providers, advocates, law enforcement and more, because we all have a role.

I would also like to remind residents that unfortunately with spring, comes a spike in thefts from vehicles. Please take care to lock your doors and wind up your windows when your car is parked. Make sure your vehicle is completely empty of all valuables, including loose change, CD's, sunglasses and absolutely anything that would be of interest to a thief. If your vehicle is completely empty of valuables, it is very likely a thief will bypass your vehicle. If you happen to see someone checking the door handles of parked cars, please immediately report your observations to police at 613-230-6211.

Constable Tim Murray